Fall is a particularly wonderful time of year, full of our favorite things: light-weight layers, pumpkin spice lattes, dewy mornings, and the ultimate front-runner, gala season. It wouldn't be that time of year without weekends full of charitable events that are as exciting to attend as they are to dress up for. Here, we present six not-to-miss soirees and the swoon-worthy outfits that perfectly match each designated dress code. Just don't forget to buy your ticket in advance—these parties are sure to sell out!
